INTRODUCTION

Input from the community survey, the community planning committee, Board of Trustees and Friends, and Library staff guided the focus of this new plan, including the creation of goals and objectives. During the Library's Strategic Planning process, several areas of need were identified and incorporated into four service goals for the FY2023- FY2027 Strategic Plan. This strategic plan will help form the basis for the work we do over the next five years to help the Library best serve our community. It is important to note that COVID-19 protocols limited the strategic planning process; most meetings took place virtually. Our community survey respondents were encouraged to respond based on the last few years, not just 2020-2021.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Community Overview

The City of Haverhill, located 30 miles northeast of Boston on the Merrimack River, was established in 1640 as Pentucket; Haverhill was incorporated as a City in 1870. Although originally settled as farmland, the City evolved into a major industrial center through the establishment of saw and grist mills in the late 17th century, tanneries and boatyards in the 18th century, and shoe manufacturing in the 19th century. The City remained a thriving industrial center until the severe depression of the 1930s. In the late 20th and early 21st century, the City has seen a resurgence of growth, with computer technology and research industries moving into Haverhill's industrial parks and central business district.

According to most recent data, the population of Haverhill is approximately 67,787, an increase of 5.2% from the 2010 Census. The demographics of Haverhill have changed over the years, with approximately 25% of Haverhill residents claiming Latino heritage. 21.9% of residents speak a language other than English at home.

From the 1930s through much of the 1970s, Haverhill was in a depressed and declining state, but growth and change were the major themes of the last few decades. Housing trends in the 20th century led to the conversion of several old factories into loft apartments and condominiums. Harbor Place, a mixed-use residential and commercial space, replaced the long-vacant Woolworth building along the riverfront. Haverhill Heights, another mixed-use structure, is nearing completion and will add a whole new look to the ongoing redevelopment of the riverfront. A recent community scan of the City is attached in Appendix E.

Library Overview

The Haverhill Public Library was established in 1873 in an agreement between wealthy industrialist E.J.M. Hale and the City of Haverhill. The agreement stipulated that Mr. Hale would donate land for a building site and half the money necessary to build and furnish a library if the people of Haverhill would donate the other half. He further stipulated that if the City accepted this gift, it would establish a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees and assume responsibility for the annual operating expenses of the Library. The original Library building opened on November 18, 1875. In 1965, the Trustees decided to build a new Library facility to replace the original building. Construction began in 1966, and the new Library opened in June of 1969. A subsequent renovation project, completed in 1997, increased space for materials, seating, and overall size from 30,500 to 44,000 square feet.

A seven-member self-perpetuating Board of Trustees governs the Haverhill Public Library. The City is responsible for funding the maintenance of Library facilities and staff salaries. As the owners in trust of the Library, the Trustees are responsible for ensuring that the City fulfills its part of the agreement and providing an annual appropriation of funds for the purchase of Library materials and other services. Ultimately, the Library's Board of Trustees is responsible for the Library, its facilities and services, and its policies and procedures. Since the Library's inception, a priority of the Board of Trustees has been developing a Library Endowment, the interest from which is used to purchase materials and supplement the City of Haverhill's budget for the Library.

PLANNING PROCESS

The goals of a Strategic Plan are to identify key areas a public library must focus on to meet the community's changing needs and share that information with all library stakeholders—patrons, staff, and community. Selecting some goals over others does not mean that other aspects of the library's work are less important. The selection of a goal simply acknowledges that the library will focus additional effort and resources in that area.

The Haverhill Public Library selected professional consultant Barbara Alevras to help facilitate the strategic planning process and to supplement the work done by the administration. This process focuses on assessing the needs of the community that the Library serves. The Library determines which of these needs can be met by the Library and addressed in the strategic plan.

The Library formed a Community Planning Committee to help assess the needs of the Haverhill community in the next five years. Barbara conducted two meetings of the Community Planning Committee to gather input and identify possible service responses and goals for the Library. The group also considered a vision for the community of Haverhill.

To solicit staff input, Barbara led a focus group with all staff that included an analysis of strengths, opportunities, aspirations, and results (SOAR) of the Library, followed by consideration of possible service responses for the Library, and finally, a vision and possible goals for the Library.

Barbara also hosted a similar SOAR exercise with the Board of Trustees and members of the Friends of the Haverhill Public Library Board.

The final data came from a Community Survey the Library posted on its website, made available in-house, and distributed to other community locations.

THE RESULTS

Through our community survey and planning meetings, we received extensive, valuable feedback. Each group—staff, public, Trustees and Friends, and Community Committee—aligned on certain key areas while also providing us with unique perspectives on the importance of these areas.

The goals we have derived from this feedback are:

COMMUNITY INCLUSION
TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION
COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT AND EXPANSION
RELEVANCY AND EVOLUTION

Data was collected from each SOAR group activity and the community survey. The Community Committee distilled this data into priorities. Priorities were pared down by staff into four major goals. These goals are the basis of the strategic plan and annual action plans. For more insight into this process, see Appendix F—Strategic Plan Focus Flowchart.

The Action Plan captures new initiatives and tasks designed to support the Library's specific objectives and address changing needs. The Action Plan is updated annually and kept on file at the MBLC. To view the Action Plan, see Appendix D- Haverhill Public Library Action Plan Fiscal Years 2023-2027.

The Director and managers will evaluate the Strategic Plan twice annually to monitor the progress being made. Each annual action plan will be closely evaluated with potential changes and updates made. The Director will report on the status of the Strategic Plan annually to the Board of Trustees. Any major changes to the plan will be filed with MBLC.

OPEN-ENDED QUESTIONS:

What does the library offer that you value most? (188 responses)

Patron responses centered on books and access to materials through the consortium and interlibrary loan. The great customer service provided by the library's staff was also heavily mentioned.

If the Library could do one thing to improve your experience, what would it be? (150 responses)

Since this survey was started right before we transitioned to our newest reopening phase, a lot of the feedback we received has already been addressed, such as staying open till 9:00 pm, opening the Children’s Room, and expanding computer use time. Other feedback focused on more comfortable seating/study spaces, better parking (which is a City issue), and decreasing wait times for popular titles. A lot of patrons responded that they couldn’t think of anything or that the library is doing a great job as-is.

What services have been most helpful to you during the COVID-19 pandemic?

Almost unanimously, patrons said curbside pickup was the service that they found most helpful. Other responses included access to e-titles, our reopening plan, zoom programming, and our databases.

Appendix B—HAVPL Focus Group Results Report 2021

HAVERHILL PUBLIC LIBRARY STRATEGIC PLAN FY23-27 INPUT FOCUS GROUP RESULTS FOR JUNE 7, 2021, 6-8PM

PARTICIPANTS: 2 (Female = 2; Male = 0)

1. What are the very first two words you think of when you think about the Library?

- Books (x2)
- Reading
- Programs

2. Tell us a little about yourself and your family and about the Library programs and services you use (or don't use).

- One participant hasn't visited the Library or used any of its services yet. During the pandemic, she became interested in learning more about what the Library offers. She visited the website because she wants to start engaging with the Library.
 - This focus group is the first Library activity she has participated in.
 - She's interested in getting the Library's guidance regarding which books she should be read.
- Currently, she orders books online and picks them up once a week via the curbside pickup service. She also does a lot of crafts and has attended numerous Library virtual programs via Zoom. Before the pandemic, she visited the Library several times a week.

3. Which Library resources or materials do you use most frequently?

MOST VALUED RESOURCES OR MATERIALS:

- Books (x2)
 - Fiction and non-fiction books for one participant
 - For fiction, she enjoys murder mysteries, beach reads, and romances.
 - For non-fiction, she likes biographies and autobiographies.
 - Enjoys listening to audiobooks.
 - Historical fiction and children's books for the other participant.
 - Prefers to listen to her books. She finds audiobooks hold her attention more than physical books. They're easier for her to focus on.
- Programs:
 - Craft programs. She likes crafts and the website's craft corner activities. She enjoyed the bird feeder activity. Thinks the Library's crafts activities are "so creative" creative.
 - She tries to attend all the author talks, even if she hadn't read the book.
 - Occasionally, the Library brings in a reenactment group to make a presentation. She has liked the ones she attended.

- On a past Halloween, she enjoyed attending a mini “book fair” event at the Library. Well-known and local authors specializing in “spooky” books presented their work.
- The variety of programs mentioned sounds really interesting to one participant. She looks forward to experiencing theme-based activities, especially the book clubs.

LEAST VALUED RESOURCES OR MATERIALS: N/A - can’t think of anything.

4. How can the Library’s physical space be improved?

POTENTIAL BUILDING OR GROUNDS IMPROVEMENTS:

- One participant hasn’t visited the Library, so can’t offer feedback.
- The other participant likes the current facility, but it only has a couple of small meeting rooms. It would be nice to have more small meeting rooms that accommodate small groups. The current rooms fill up too quickly.

FACILITY AND GROUNDS’ ACCESSIBILITY:

- Could use a little more signage. A community group she’s in conducted a meeting at the Library. People who hadn’t visited the Library couldn’t figure out how to get to the meeting room.
- Some exterior doors lock at 6 pm, which forces you to use a different entrance. However, new visitors need better instructions regarding entering via a different entrance.
- Summer Street’s entrance staircase to the main parking lot entrance is old.

IDEAS:

- Create a brochure map of the Library.
- Add more/better signage indicating what’s on each floor and instructions regarding the doors to use after 6 pm.
- Update the Summer Street entrance staircase.

5. How can the Library improve its programs and services?

- The Library offers such a wide range of activities!
- She uses the Library’s website to review events but gets frustrated because it frequently “bounces” you to other sites. She also uses the Libby application frequently, but the Library’s mobile application isn’t easy to use. Plus, HPL’s app won’t let you order books.

IDEAS:

- Have a book club that meets regularly
- Have a convention and/or book fairs
- Provide reader advisory information about which books are trending
- Offer more instruction regarding how to use the Library’s many applications.
- Tell website visitors how to find things on the Library’s website. Make the navigation more intuitive.
- She has four different Library-related applications on her phone (HAVPL’s app, In Libra, Libby, and Overdrive). Would love for them to be consolidated into one mobile application.

6. What TWO words would you use to describe the librarians who assist you?

- Love Them!
- Friendly
- Helpful (x2)
- Responsive

7. Which of the Library's technology resources do you use either on-site or via the Library's website?

LIBRARY WEBSITE:

- One participant visits the website and thinks it's generally user friendly. She downloads music (Freegal), movies and books via Hoopla, and Kanopy movies on the website. After the recent website update, she was a little confused about where the content she's looking for is. She's still learning where to find the information she wants.
- The other participant has also visited the website. Thinks it's user friendly, but she got a little lost looking for the list of Library programs. She had to click through several links and was redirected to another page for the programs. She has also reserved museum passes online a couple of times, including discounted tickets to the Merrimack Repertory Theater in Lowell.

GENERAL COMMENTS:

- Participant said she brings her computer and uses the Library's Wi-Fi. It has a strong signal. She hasn't used a computer in the Library, but sees people using them. It's a great resource for the community.
- The other participant didn't know the Library has publicly accessible computers. She would use them and the Wi-Fi.

IDEA: Museum and cultural passes should be promoted more.

8. What technology do you think the Library should focus on over the next five years?

TECHNOLOGY DEVICES: Likes the idea of the Library offering access to a 3D printer.

TECHNOLOGY PROGRAMS:

- € Would be cool to learn about photography and photo editing.
- € Wants to learn coding. It's very important these days
- € Offer Robotics for kids
- € Adding STEM programs, especially for young girls

GENERAL COMMENT: There are so many cool ideas for what the Library can offer. Great ways to keep people engaged. Lots of things to explore, do, and learn!

9. Are there any barriers to service—things that impede your ability to receive the service you need or want from the Library?

Barriers to Service:

- Wait times for books vary depending on how popular the book is. She understands that wait times for the most popular books are longer than older, less popular items. Overdrive always has a supply of audiobooks available, so she can always find something to read. Sometimes she finds it challenging because it seems like a lot of waitlisted items become simultaneously available, but she can't read them all in the time allowed.
- Program times vary, but evenings are more convenient for people who work, especially now that businesses are opening again, which means many people are resuming their commutes to/from their office.

IDEAS:

- Schedule activities that start a little later than 6 pm, because people who commute can't get there on time.
- Survey the community to find out what times are convenient for people to attend different types of programs.

10. What could the Library do to better serve Haverhill? What advice do you have?

GENERAL COMMENTS:

- One participant has lived in Haverhill for 3 years. Until recently, she didn't even think of the Library. However, during the pandemic, she became interested in learning more about what the Library offer. She recently visited the website and signed up for this focus group. It's her first Library activity.
- Before the pandemic, the other participant attended a lot of the programs and developed a group of "Library Friends." She misses them.
- The Library has cultivated a "nice little community," but there's a lot of opportunity to grow the group because the Library offers so much to so many. There's something for everyone.

IDEAS:

- The Library needs to do a lot more outreach and promotion. HPL has a lot of resources but needs to promote them more, so more people are aware of them and know how to access them. Stress how much value the Library offers. Promote all the programs people can take advantage of.
- Get out into the community more.
 - The Library's bookmobile goes out once or twice a week, so new people and people who can't visit the Library can access its offerings. Continue to expand that access.
 - In the past, Library had a booth at the Farmers' Market and provided information to people. Continue participating in community activities.
- Not sure how much the Library partners with local schools, but it should work with schools to encourage reading and promote literacy.

- Use social media more. It's where people are getting information and engaging with organizations. Expand presence beyond Facebook to other social media platforms. For example, be active on Instagram.
 - Library has a Facebook page, but one participant doesn't have a Facebook account.

11. How important is it to have a good library in our community?

LIBRARY IS/ISN'T IMPORTANT BECAUSE:

- Very important, because knowledge is power. The more you educate yourself, the more you grow. College-aged people and younger don't necessarily know where to start to think about what they want to do with their lives and/or what they want to learn. The Library makes information and materials accessible to everyone, not just those with money.
- The Library is very important because not everyone can afford to buy or store books.
- For students who need to do research, they need access to computers and Wi-Fi. It's important for these things to be accessible to EVERYONE!

IF THE LIBRARY CLOSED TOMORROW...:

- Years ago, the city considered closing the Library. The Library's hours were reduced. The community was very upset. It was very hard for those who really needed access to everything the Library offers.
- She would not be happy. She could use the school library, but many other people aren't in school, so wouldn't have access to resources at the only local place they can learn at. The Library enables you to keep your knowledge fresh/current. It enables people to advance their knowledge.
- The other participant said it would be devastating to have the Library close.
- Even if you have a computer, you only have so much information. Not all the information on the web is fact-based.

12. What issues now facing the town do you think may impact the Library?

- The economic downturn. Money is always tight. Financial issues can always come up again in town. Ensure the mayor doesn't touch the Library's budget.
- The economy is challenging. The pandemic hit the economy a lot. People and businesses' financial situations were hurt.

IDEAS:

- Encourage the community to continually advocate with town officials on the Library's behalf.
- Having more fundraisers for the Library could help. Would help address the Library's potential financial problems with the city. Might help avoid the city potentially shutting the Library down.

13. What could the Library do to better serve Haverhill? What advice do you have?

- Some libraries are collaborating with other libraries to co-sponsor and/or cross-promote programs. During the pandemic, she attended several interesting non-local library-sponsored programs. It provided people with new opportunities to participate in many more interesting free events.
- Increase access to HPL and other Libraries' services. Increase cross-promotion. One participant has attended Tewksbury Library and Reading Library programs. Being able to find out about other libraries' programs on your "home" Library's calendar is helpful.
- If you attend an in-person program and you don't really enjoy it, it's embarrassing to leave. However, in a virtual program, you can easily bow out of a session. That's nice. It's much more comfortable. Continue offering some virtual programs even after the pandemic.
- Participant said she's really looking forward to attending an in-person program and workshops. She's interested in more than just borrowing books.

NOTE: A prioritized list of the ideas captured in this Focus Group session and all other community feedback activities is available for review in the supplemental HAVPL Ideas and Input Report 2021.
