Organizational History

The Haverhill Public Library was established in 1873 in an agreement between wealthy industrialist E.J.M. Hale and the City of Haverhill. The agreement stipulated that Mr. Hale would donate land for a building site and half the money necessary to build and furnish a library if the people of Haverhill would donate the other half. He further stipulated that the City, in accepting this gift, would establish a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees and assume responsibility for the annual operating expenses of the library. The original library building opened November 18, 1875. In 1965 the Trustees decided to build a new library facility to replace the original building. With pledges from the community, proceeds from the sale of the original building, a federal library construction grant, and the fundraising efforts of the Trustees, construction began in 1966 and the new library opened in June of 1969. A subsequent renovation project, completed in 1997, increased space for materials, seating, and overall size from 30,500 to 44,000 square feet.

Scope and Content Note

Over 300 individual and familial records are represented in this collection. Ranging in dates from the 17th century to the 20th century, most of the materials originate from the 19th and 20th centuries. Included in the collection is biographical information on individuals and families, such as legal documents, correspondence, newspaper clippings, and other manuscript material. Materials are arranged in alphabetical order by personal or family name.
