What originally made you interested in reading/watching/playing this media? How did you hear about it or come across it?

I saw a video about it on the internet and really liked the idea of reading a mystery at the time when I started it.

Is it part of a series? If so, what series is it?

Yes it is first in a series called The Inheritance Games.

What is this media about? Make sure to give enough interesting details without spoiling too much!

A young girl gets the news that she has inherited the money of a billionaire that she does not know. To gain the inheritance she has to follow the terms of the will that requires she moves into the billionaire's mansion with the man's family. She is then drawn into the mystery of why she was chosen to inherit the money and has to solve a collection of puzzles set up by the billionaire.

Who are the main characters? What makes them interesting or unique?

The story follows the main character Avery Kylie Grambs who before inheriting the money of billionaire Tobias Hawthorne was just a normal teenage girl dealing with the death of her mother. She is very independent and clever as she is able to properly navigate the riddles of Tobias Hawthorne.

Does this media remind you of anything else you've read/watched/played?

It is similar to other novels that follow a mystery plot like Good Girls Guide to Murder.

What type of person might enjoy this media? For example, this book is for someone who likes Percy Jackson, someone who enjoys getting scared, someone who likes a challenge, etc.

A person who like to try to solve the mysteries within books while reading them would like this book.

Did you like this media? Would you recommend it to others? Why or why not?

I did really like this book and would recommend this to others as its always has you wondering what will happen next and trying to solve the mystery before the characters do but also still has you feeling like you are connecting with the characters.

Do you like the cover? Does it convey what the media is about?

I do like the cover as I think it feels like it really shows the luxury that is portrayed in the book while also showing that it is at risk.
