What originally made you interested in reading/watching/playing this media? How did you hear about it or come across it?

I have loved many of PTA's other works, so I thought I'd give this one, his most recent film, a try.

Is it part of a series? If so, what series is it?

No

What is this media about? Make sure to give enough interesting details without spoiling too much!

Two members of a revolutionary group fall in love and have a child named Willa, only to be broken up by a failed heist. Pat goes into hiding under a new identity with their daughter and Perfidia goes into witness protection after offering up information to the cops. 16 years later, the police are after Pat and his daughter and they become separated. They must evade capture and find each other.

Who are the main characters? What makes them interesting or unique?

Willa must decide who to trust when she realizes she may not know who her real father is. Pat must stay determined and focussed without letting his anger or fear take hold of him.

Does this media remind you of anything else you've read/watched/played?

This film reminds me of other PTA films like There Will Be Blood and The Master, not because of their contents, but because of their style and how the plots progress.

What type of person might enjoy this media? For example, this book is for someone who likes Percy Jackson, someone who enjoys getting scared, someone who likes a challenge, etc.

I think most people would like this movie, especially those who enjoy thrillers or family dramas, as this is a mix of both.

Did you like this media? Would you recommend it to others? Why or why not?

I would absolutely recommend this movie to others as it was both very exciting as well as funny.

Do you like the cover? Does it convey what the media is about?

The cover, which shows Pat's face in the background with Willa running in front of it with a gun is solid. It shows that they are connected and are evading danger.
